SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SECOND Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to John J. DeVette, greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Fannie DeVette as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, an answer to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover a decree of divorce between yourself and plaintiff upon the following grounds, viz: That for more than two years last past you have, because of ill-humors and profligacy, neglected to provide for and support the common necessities of life and for the further reason that on or about June 7, 1878, (as plaintiff alleges) you did willfully or without cause desert and abandon her and have ever since continued to do so, all of which more fully appear from the Complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, this 31st day of January, A. D. 1881.

Nearly $100,000 worth of property was destroyed by the Monongahela ice-gorge at Pittsburg, Thursday.

The water is still rising in the city of New Orleans, and skiffs and sailboats are coming into very general use.

The Union Printers have struck against Murat Halstead for refusing to make the Cincinnati Commercial a Union paper.

Governor Roberts of Texas has ordered the State troops to Fort Comanche to protect the people against the acts of the negro soldiers.

The North German Gazette makes a violent attack on Gambetta, accusing him of attempting to drag France into a warlike policy.

In Waterville, Me., the prohibitory laws are so strictly enforced that the college professors are unable to procure alcohol for scientific experiments.

A party of ten cow boys near San Jose N. M., Wednesday, had a fight with thirty-eight Indians and left six dead on the field. More than the troops have done.

Seventeen lawyers are engaged in a suit over the will of an Indian, who boasted, shortly before his death, that he had got his affairs in such a shape that when he died the lawyers could not make a penny out of his estate.

The gale at New Orleans continued 4 hours, carrying the water of the over the lowlands along the New Orleans & Mobile Railroad. The track between Metairie and Lake Charles station is submerged, and several miles washed out.

Dispatches from Portland say the destruction of live stock by the floods is very heavy. In York county the loss amounts to 80 per cent, Wasco county, 50 per cent, and in the section east of the Cascade mountains they are unprecedentedly heavy.

The San Francisco Chronicle has again a libel suit on its hands. John E. Shawhan wants $25,000 damages for an article stating that he was examined by the Commissioners of Insanity and committed to the Home of the Insane. Shawhan says that the publication was false and malicious, and has damaged his reputation in the amount above named.

The City Marshal of Collierville, Tenn. attempted last Wednesday night to arrest a desperado who was creating a disturbance in a saloon in that city. The man resisted the Marshal and also a young man named William Payne, who had gone to his assistance, whereupon Payne seized a shotgun and blew off the head of the unknown ruffian.

We are informed says the Silver State that operations are wholly suspended in Lewis district. The Starr & Grove Company reduced wages to three dollars per day on the 1st instant. The men refused to work for less than the old rates and work was suspended. The mines and mills are closed down for the present, as the miners will not accept the company's terms.

On Tuesday night, says the Carson Appeal, a woman arrayed in male attire, and was so thoroughly disguised that very few were aware of her real sex, visited a gambling house to "back the tiger," pocketing $300 in the short space of fifteen minutes. Her success will probably induce others of her sex and social status to try their luck at this approved easy method of "raising the wind."

The New York World says: "The annual rental value of the pews in Plymouth Church is $12,800. In addition to this amount the sum of $29,537 was realized as premiums on choice pews for the current year, at the letting the other evening. Last year the sum so produced was $27,621 showing an increase for 1881 over 1880 of $1,705. According to this exhibit, Mr. Beecher is not losing his hold on his congregation so rapidly as many persons have supposed."

In a sermon lately the Rev. Dr. Witt Falmagne indulged in the following oratorical pyrotechnics: "The old huckeyed religious phrase that come snoring down the centuries will never arrest the masses of to-day. People don't want the dusty flowers of an old millinery shop, they want japonicas wet and fresh with the morning dew, they are tired of the ox team, tallow candle, sanctimonious, fleshless, pulpit humdrum of the past, and want a Chicago express, electric light, flesh and blood style of preaching. When that comes the churches will be more crowded than the theaters."

Our Fish

The following is extracted from the report of Nevada Fish Commissioner H. G. Parker: "On the adjournment of the last Legislature I had in the State Hatching House over 200,000 McCloud river salmon fry. These, excepting the few thousand for Carson river, I placed in the Truckee, at and near Reno. From the nature of this fish, fully another year will be required before many make their appearance in the neighborhood where planted. I am convinced the Truckee is as well adapted to the salmon as the Columbia or McCloud rivers. Nothing can be more satisfactory than the evidence I have of the increase and growth of the several lots of catfish I put in Washoe Lake and Carson, Truckee and Humboldt rivers. Washoe Lake is so fully stocked and the fish of that size and vigor that further experiments would be useless. Over 100 a day have been taken by one fisherman none less than fourteen inches long and weighing from one pound to one and a half pounds. Advice from the Truckee and Humboldt rivers warrant me in reporting equally as favorably as from those planted in Washoe Lake, and with another year's growth or on the opening of the rivers in the coming Spring, I have no hesitancy in stating that good and profitable fishing may be had. With an appropriation of $2,321.68, being the amount unexpended of the $4,000 appropriation of 1879, I will be enabled to carry out all my plans and fully stock all our lakes and streams with the kinds and quality of fish my experience has taught me to be best adapted to our waters."

Arctic Expeditions Proposed

The successful Arctic expedition under the command of Lieutenant Schwatka, which returned last year from its long overland journey to King William's Land and the scenes of gallant old Sir John Franklin and his heroic officers and crew, has had the effect of stirring up the interest and ambition of about every prominent man who has ever taken a leading interest in Arctic researches, and propositions are being made to set about new expeditions. One proposed is to send another party to the vicinity of the region where the Erebus and Terror were lost, and then brave crews found a termination of struggling life. The fact that Schwatka's expedition found and brought back the remains of one of the officers of the Franklin Expedition, but failed to find any of the records believed to have been chanced somewhere in that vicinity, and thought even yet to be safe in some carib, leads interest to the proposition to once more attempt their discovery.

The Ashantee War

The British are to have more trouble abroad, the King of Ashantee having declared war against them. The Ashantees are perhaps the most powerful, as they are the bravest of African kingdoms. They number between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000, and the males are hardy warriors, trained from their youth to fight. Several times during the century they have come into collision with the British, and in every instance the latter were worsted, sometimes having to humble themselves and sue for mercy. On one occasion, after severely flogging the British, the Ashantees came near capturing Cape Coast Castle, the chief position held by the English on the Gold Coast. The Ashantees, of course, cannot drive the British from West Africa, but they can, and doubtless will greatly annoy the people whom they have ever regarded as the enemy to the native peoples of that continent.

Interesting to Poor People

The Treasury records show that Vanderbilt owns $50,000,000 in United States bonds, the quarterly interest on which is $500,000, other members of the family have $5,000,000 more, with a quarterly interest income of $50,000. Louis McLane has $5,000,000 in bonds, with a quarterly interest income of $50,000. J. C. Flood has $10,000,000, with quarterly revenue from his investment of $100,000, and Miss Jennie Flood, his daughter, still unmarried, has in her name the sum of $2,000,000 in bonds, and quarterly pocket money therefrom of $25,000. Christine Nilsson has $75,000 in fines of 1881 and $22,000 in fines of 1882. Lotta, the actress, has $50,000 in fines and Emma Thursby has $14,000 in fines.

It seems to be a settled fact that the Eureka and Palisade Railroad is to be extended south as an agent of the road is reported as being East procuring the necessary stock and material. It is to be built regardless of the proposed Colorado road, a fact that does not argue well for the statement advanced by some that the E & P was managing the affairs of the proposed road.

The Southern Oil Works, together with 2,000 barrels of oil, 1,000 tons oil cake and 1,000 cotton seeds were totally destroyed by fire at Memphis, Tenn., last Thursday. Loss, $200,000, insurance, $123,000. Operatives barely escaped with their lives.

The United States Circuit Court Wednesday decided not to punish the settlers for contempt, as they are now undergoing punishment for resisting the United States Marshal in the Mussel Slough country.

An Ohio Court has decided that married women don't own the clothes they wear. This must be a gratifying decision to woman who not only earn their own clothes, but also those worn by their husbands.

A party of seven prospectors while camping on a mountain in Arizona, at an altitude of 700 feet, were all struck with paralysis the same night. One of the victims, B. F. Stahl, arrived in San Francisco Wednesday for treatment.

Abe Barnes was asked to drink by Jas. Fowler, at Custer City, Sunday night, and declining to do so was shot dead by Fowler, who was taken away by the vigilantes, and his body was found Monday morning hanging from a tree.

Soon after the workmen in the Santa Clara coal mine, near Los Angeles, Cal., left the mine for dinner on Saturday the mine caved in through all its length. Had the accident occurred five minutes sooner, not one of the fourteen miners would have escaped death.

A New York jeweler recently presented a Connecticut man with a suit of clothes, and while prospecting around in the lining of the vest the latter discovered a 300-dollar diamond pin. There is nothing remarkable about this, but what is strange, the pin was returned to the owner.

A terrific storm of wind and rain from the southwest struck Pass Manchaca, La., Wednesday morning at half-past 3 o'clock, sweeping away every building in the place, including the depot and telegraph office. No lives were lost, but the citizens lose everything in the way of household effects, provisions, etc.

A mail weigher in the Dubuque, Ill., postal car named John P. Leist was arrested for robbing the registered pouch Thursday night of letters containing money and checks to the amount of $12,000 to $15,000. He confessed the crime, and handed over several packages, some of which had not been opened.

The N. Y. Times says it was expected by the American Commission for the Revision of the New Testament that the book would be published and ready for delivery in this country by the present month, but it is now announced on the authority of a cable dispatch, received by Dr. Phillips Schoff, President of the American Commission, that publication will not be made for some time.

The point raised by the House of Congress that the Senate has no right to originate an appropriation bill for the relief of the steamer Jeannette has been overcome by ignoring the Senate bill and starting the matter in the House. The House will adopt a similar bill and will send it to the Senate of concurrence, and as there is no opposition to the measure it will speedily be passed.

The tunnel under the British Channel from Dover to Calais will be thirty-one miles in length, of which twenty-two will be under the strait. Shafts are to be sunk on each shore to the depth of about 450 feet below high water mark. The crown of the tunnel will be not less than 250 feet below Dover Straits. The cost will probably be over $20,000,000. As the passenger traffic between England and the continent amounts to nearly 400,000 persons annually, this marine subway will be of the greatest advantage. The work is progressing rapidly.

The Monroe doctrine has been emphatically reaffirmed by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs who have unanimously adopted the report of the sub-committee upon the Crapo resolutions declaring the policy of the United States in reference to the Inter-Ocean Canal, and has instructed Hull, the Chairman, to report the same, with substitute resolutions accompanying, to the House, with a recommendation for their adoption. The resolutions reaffirm the Monroe doctrine in very emphatic terms, saying that "the United States, cherishing a friendly spirit to all nations, will adhere to strict neutrality in all trans-Atlantic affairs, and expect alike non-interference in all American affairs, whether in the northern or southern portion of the Western Hemisphere."

A letter from Philadelphia, in the great State of Pennsylvania, says there is a missionary preaching in that city on the heathenism of Nevada, and is trying to raise funds to instruct the said heathen on the precepts of the Bible. He says the only way any visitor to this State would know it was Sunday was by the banks and court houses being closed. Our readers can ponder and reflect on the above, but it is our opinion that the old fraud calling himself a missionary is collecting for No. 1, as the people of Nevada are, as a majority, better posted on biblical lore than the citizens of the Eastern States.

The bill passed in the Assembly Wednesday, for the relief of sureties on official bonds, is generally spoken of as a bill to release Carrick's bondsmen from their liability. Though such might be the effect of the law, it does not release the bondsmen. It merely provides that where a Board of County Commissioners have failed, or shall fail, to properly guard an official bond, or to comply with the law as to counting money, the bondsmen shall not be liable in case of a defalcation. The Carrick bondsmen would have to go into court and prove such negligence.

The Stock Exchange at Montreal Canada, is greatly excited over the announcement of the transfer of the Montreal Telegraph Company's stock to Wilson G. Hunt, of New York, a Director of the Western Union. The movement is thought to foreshadow the absorption of the Montreal Company by the great consolidation. The Montreal Company has a capital of $2,000,000. Its system covers the Canadian Dominion and extends through Northern New York.

Dillon, speaking in Manchester Wednesday, says: "If Englishmen did not quickly change their temper towards the Irish they (the Irish) would indeed be dogs and slaves if they did not long for the day when they could join the United States." Parnell, he said, within a month would stand in Congress at Washington the honored and welcomed spokesman of their wrongs.

Proof of Insanity

In these days of doubt and discussion as to what constitutes insanity, real, emotional, transitory and otherwise, the following illustrative incident related by Senator Nye will be appreciated.

A Jewish lady had a promising son. He was educated, accomplished, and comely. He was an only son and his name was Isaac. He grew to young manhood, but she watched his every movement. One day she went to the Rabbi and said: "My dear father, Isaac, my beloved son, is insane." "Oh, that is a great affliction," said the Rabbi, "but what is the form of insanity?" The lady replied: "I saw him eat pork sausage." The Rabbi, much relieved, responded: "That may prove a perverted appetite, but not insanity." "But more than that," she said, "I saw him follow to the kitchen our handmaid Sarah, who is a beautiful girl, and I saw him kiss and embrace her." The Rabbi again replied: "That may indicate affection or lust, but not insanity. If he had eaten the girl and hugged the sausage, that would be proof of insanity."

TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Legislature adjourned last night until Monday.

The town marshal has impounded two black sows and four pigs.

It was $1,500 that the Legislature appropriated to the Franktown sufferers instead of $5,000, as heretofore stated.

In the case of the Truckee Lumber Company vs. M. C. Lake, on trial in the District Court, yesterday, the plaintiffs were non-suited.

What is the matter of the water supply? We have not seen a drop of water from the pipes in the Journal office for several days. Has the river dried up?

By notice elsewhere it will be observed that the delinquent sale of the Truckee and Steamboat Irrigating Canal Company has been postponed until the 8th day of March next.

The Vandaville Star Combination will appear at the Nevada Theater this evening. Their programme, as billed, is a good one, and we doubt not there will be lots of fun.

If you are hunting for bargains in the merchandise line go and see Ferguson, opposite Schoolings store. The goods are all fresh, and must and will be closed out at some price.

John Hoy has put a good plank walk across Second street on the east side of Virginia street, for the special convenience of the Ohio House, and for the general accommodation of the public at large.

If you want to be convinced of the fact that Nathan went with the Knights to San Francisco, go around to his store and see the new goods being unloaded there, and no more proof will be required.

Katz & Henry's flume at Verdi, so badly damaged by the late storm has been repaired, and lumber is now coming down the flume to the yard, on the railroad, at the rate of 50,000 feet per day.

The Assembly bill appropriating $1,500 to the Franktown sufferers was, in the Senate, yesterday, reduced to $750, and passed. Then it was returned to the Assembly, where the amendment was concurred in.

J. A. Ferguson has an elegant buck-board wagon, rigged to go single or double which he offers for sale cheap. In fact he will sell it cheaper than a man can steal it. The rig can be seen at McFarlin's blacksmith shop.

We see that "dancing as usual" is part of the Reform Club entertainment, to-night. We have understood that the society had concluded to abandon that part of the entertainment, and probably this evening will be last, for a while; so, the young folks had better make the most of it.

The railroad company are filling in the R. R. yard with gravel from the hills west of town. It is the purpose of the company also, to gravel the street from the depot to Sierra street. The street will be raised with gravel some eight or ten inches. The men were at work yesterday in front of the Arcade Hotel.

There is someone in Reno who is opposed to the new Judicial District for Washoe county, and says so in a communication to the Gazette, last evening. It is strange; but there are some folks in the world who would oppose the prompt execution of the laws, and would plead for the law's delay, if they were going to be hung.

There are several persons in jail serving their term of imprisonment for petty offences, that must be dying of indigestion. Why would it not be a good plan for our road supervisor to give them a little exercise on the streets, as the law authorizes? It is too much like cruelty to animals to keep them cooped up there this fine weather.

Among the items in the river and harbor appropriation bill reported to the House of Representatives on Saturday, we fail to find anything for the mighty Truckee, the rushing Carson or the raging Humboldt. It is true, these are not as large as the Amazon, nor as long as the Mississippi, but they are the best rivers we've got, and the government ought not to slight them.

Lessons in Book-keeping. By a notice this morning it will be seen that, H. T. Shirley, an expert book-keeper is about to raise a class to be instructed in the business matter of book-keeping. The young men and ladies of our town can not spend a few dollars, and their spare time in a more profitable manner. It is certainly a branch of study that can never come amiss, and may in the future prove to be a source of support.

Hoodlumism.

At an early hour last evening, soon after the gas was lighted in Reform Club Hall, some miserable cur threw a stone weighing several pounds, through the southwest window into the hall. Although there was 10 or 20 persons in the hall at the time, fortunately no one happened to be near the window; and the missile did no damage except to demolish one of the large panes of glass in the window. Night before last the lights were turned off in the hallway, by two young men, who perhaps thought they did the mischief unobserved, but they are mistaken. We have their names, and only refrain from publishing them out of consideration for their parents. Should the offense be repeated, however, we shall not hesitate to give their names to the public. It is understood that the party who threw the stone through the window is known, and will be arrested today. No punishment, short of death or the State Prison is too severe for such vandals, and if the right party is caught, be he old or young we hope to see him get six months in the chain-gang, or a coat of tar and feathers, and driven out of town.

Justice Court.

Constable Avery arrested three able bodied beggars yesterday. They were taken before Justice Young, who allowed two of them to go on their own recognizance, until 4 o'clock p. m. when they agreed to appear for sentence; and the other he sent over the river for a short term for vagrancy. At the time of going to press, strange to say, the two had failed to appear, as per agreement, and the Constable is anxiously looking for them all over town. Evidently they are not men of their word, but wilfully deceived our guileless Justice.

Accepted.

Having been satisfied as to the good faith and authorship of the poem entitled "George Eliot," we publish it this morning, and recommend it to the careful perusal of the readers of the JOURNAL, as the maiden effort of one of Reno's fair daughters.

(ORIGINAL.)
GEORGE ELIOT.

Death's envious grasp has stolen
From the ranks of Genius a mind
Whose vast creative powers
All thence she touched, sublimed.

A woman's weary hand is still;
Her pen lies useless now—
That potent thing, which to the world
Conveyed the thoughts of her noble brow.

The woman's form now lies at rest,
In a far off English grave,
But the wondrous works of her subtle mind
Shall echo forever like a ceaseless wave.

Her power, as vast as the ocean,
Her glance, keen and deep as the sea,
Shall ever be treasured as priceless gems,
Till Time, itself, shall cease to be.
—B. J.
